1. Cost-Containment Initiatives: Wages

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Wage freeze and under-indexation (1992)	Professional, technicians and other employees <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Collective agreements are extended and wages frozen from January 1 to June 30, 1992. - On July 1, 1992, salary scales will be increased by 3 per cent. - GST lump sum payment: a lump sum of one per cent has been paid since January 1, 1991 to those governed by agreements containing such a clause. The lump sum will continue to be paid until a new collective agreement is signed. Management <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Salary scales are indexed at the rate of 2.5 per cent for the period from July 1, 1991 to June 30, 1992 and at a rate of 3 per cent thereafter.
Wage Reduction (1982)	During the first quarter of 1983, the government reduced the compensation and enrichment already conceded under the labour contracts ending in December 1982. The recuperation of the wage increases was limited to those corresponding to the last six months of 1982 and were oriented more heavily to the higher income groups. Wages of non-unionized civil servants were frozen at their July 1982 level. From April 1, 1983 to December 31, 1983, wage scales were set according to their June 1982 level for higher wages ($37,000 and above). For the lowest wages, there was full indexation to the cost of living; however, indexation was gradually reduced to zero as wages reached $37,000. Blue collar workers received an additional 2 per cent increase in order to maintain parity with the private sector.

5. Cost-Containment Initiatives in the Social Services Sector

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Rise in the number of home visits to beneficiaries (since 1987)	- Visits to beneficiaries of income security programs were increased to ensure that benefits are paid to people who really need them.
Reform of the income security system (gradually implemented between August 1989 and July 1990)	- The main objective was to increase the motivation to work. - A distinction was first made between people able to work and people with severe impediments to employment.
	- People able to work must demonstrate that they intend to take part in employability measures if they do not want to have their benefits cut.
	- The concept of spouse is now better defined, the concept of shared housing was extended to people who are not related and a parental contribution is applied in social aid scales. For example, there is a reduction in benefits of $93 a month (in 1991) for recipients who are able to work and who share a dwelling, to take economies of scale into consideration (the amount is indexed annually).

Control over professional remuneration

Description

Three mechanisms have been implemented to limit the increase in professional remuneration:

- the remuneration of general practitioners and specialists is subject to tariff targets: if their respective income is greater than the projected average income for a given period, it will be adjusted downward over the next period to respect the target.
- the remuneration of dentists, optometrists and general practitioners is subject to an individual ceiling: individual remuneration should not exceed the predetermined ceiling on a quarterly basis. Any excess over this limit is subject to a reduction of two-thirds for excessive remuneration for dentists and three-quarters for general practitioners and optometrists.
- Specific services are subject to annual maxima otherwise the excess over the limit is reimbursed in part only.

Control over the number of physicians.

The government has limited the number of admissions in medicine faculties as well as the number of physicians in residence.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Control over reimbursement for drugs.	Drugs are usually reimbursed according to their unitary cost (i.e. their cost as indicated on a preestablished and periodically revised drug list). Only drugs designated on the list and prescribed by a physician or a dentist are free for designated groups. Lastly, only drugs on the drug list, prescribed by a physician, a medical resident or a dentist are free to eligible people. This list is published by the Régie de l'assurance-maladie and prepared by the Minister of Health and Social Services on the recommendation of the Conseil consultatif de pharmacologie. Although the list is revised annually, it was substantially amended at the beginning of each semester in 1982 when a number of drugs (drugs that do not by law require a prescription) were withdrawn from it.
Policy concerning surplus\deficit of Health Care Centers.	Since April 1, 1986, health care centers are responsible for any deficit occurring in their operating budget. Any surplus occurring from normal operation stays with the center. Only surpluses occurring from a significant decline in activity level are transferred to the government. In case of deficits, health care centers are required to present a plan to equilibrate their operating budget.
Control over borrowing requirements of Health Care Centers.	Health care centers are required to obtain an authorization from the Department of Health and Social Welfare before contracting any loan.
Control over high technology equipment acquisition.	A financial contribution is required from health care centers: 50 per cent of the cost of any development projects has to be self-financed; for any replacement project this ratio is reduced to 20 per cent.

1992 Expenditure Management Initiatives

Description

More open consultation on fiscal outlook and options before 1992 Budget. Strategies to manage public sector wage costs, and to involve employees and transfer partners in restructuring services.

Salaries frozen for MPP's (1991-92 and 1992-93), and for Deputy Ministers and more than one thousand other senior government officials and heads of agencies (1992).

Agreement negotiated with Ontario Public Sector Employees Union for a 1 per cent wage increase in 1992 and 2 per cent in 1993, with improved employment security and other benefits.

Reform and restructuring in major transfer sector (hospitals, schools, colleges and universities, and municipalities) in consultation with transfer partners and their employees:

- Major transfer increases of 1 per cent in 1992, and 2 per cent in each of the following two years.
- An additional $160 million available to major transfer partners in 1992-93 to further restructuring, particularly innovations in collective bargaining and service delivery.
- Inflation increases for other transfer agencies also limited to 1 per cent for 1992-93.

- Public service wages

- Transfer partners

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
1990 Budget Measures
- 3-per-cent restraint	During the 1990-91 expenditure allocations process, a three per cent restraint was imposed on ministries. The funds were excluded from their preliminary allocations sent out in December 1989.
- Management of wage settlement	Ministries were also expected to absorb/manage the difference between actual salary and wage settlements and the 4 to 4.5 per cent cost escalation provided in the allocations.	Saving of $105 million.
- Additional savings	The 1990 Budget also identified an additional expenditure savings and constraint.	Target of $300 million achieved in-year.
1989 Budget Measures
- Management of wage settlement	Ministries expected to absorb/manage the difference between actual salary and wage settlements and the 3.5 to 4 per cent cost escalation provided in the budget allocations up to a level of 5 per cent.	Saving of $86 million.
- Expenditure saving	In addition, the 1989 Budget announced an expenditure savings and constraint target of $200 million.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
- Requirements for program evaluation	In 1989, an activity review directive and guideline came into effect with mandatory requirements for program evaluation. As a result, most ministries now have an infrastructure in place to undertake activity reviews. In addition, over 100 ministry program reviews have been undertaken since 1986 for areas such as vehicle fleets, travel, publications, toll-free telephones and government laboratories.	Targeted saving achieved.
1988 Budget Measures	Expenditure savings and constraint target of $500 million announced.	$500-million target achieved
- Administrative overhead provision	The 1988-89 provision for administrative overhead other than salaries, wages and benefits was frozen at the lower levels achieved by the 1987-88 across-the-board reduction. Provincial institutions such as psychiatric hospitals and jails were excluded from this measure.
1987 Budget Measures	Expenditure savings and constraint target of $350 million announced.	Target achieved largely through ministry specific cash-flow savings.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
1986 Budget Measures
- Capital Expenditure planning	Implementation of a more comprehensive approach to capital expenditure planning. Management Board of Cabinet would now coordinate Ontario's capital and other investment plans. Each ministry would submit a multi-year capital plan identifying future needs and report on the impact of new capital spending on operating costs.
- Lottery revenues	Lottery revenues would no longer be designated for specific programs. They would now be used for such priorities as cancer treatment, community hospitals and university research, as well as for community recreation and cultural activities.
- Expenditure allocation process	During the expenditure allocations process, a reduction exercise of $200 million was undertaken consisting of 1.5 per cent on salaries and wages, 3 per cent on ODOE and other reductions. In addition, the 1986-87 expenditure allocations included the annualized impact of the in-year constraint imposed in July of 1985.
1985 Budget Measures
- Streamlining of activities	Proposition to streamline some agencies, to consolidate certain government functions and to divest a number of Crown corporations.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
- Activity review	An ongoing government activity review was announced which applies to ministries today. This review has the longer term focus of increasing the awareness of the need to do program evaluation on an on-going basis. Program review is no longer seen as part of a constraint exercise but instead as a means of rationalizing resource allocation and setting priorities. Attention has been redirected to the relevance of program mandates and the effectiveness of programs to deliver their mandates.
- Expenditure constraint	In July 1985, a $250 million expenditure constraint was imposed in-year to fund new government priorities. The constraint was composed of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - 1.5 per cent on salaries and wages; - 3.0 per cent on other direct operating expenditures (ODOE); - year-end savings of $30 million; and - other reductions amounting to $170 million.
1983 Budget Measures
- Limited increase in Provincial Funds	Recipients of Provincial funds should not anticipate future increases at levels above, or even at, the rate of inflation.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
- Program review	A program review was announced and led by Management Board Secretariat a 10 per cent reduction target was established for each ministry based on 1982-83 expenditure levels.	Expenditure savings of $219 million were approved with a four year phase-in.
		The majority of savings were productivity improvements, project deferrals or small percentage cutbacks in operating funds.
1982 Budget Measures
- Limited increase in wages	Salary adjustments for senior civil servants and members of the legislature would be limited to 6 per cent.
- Limited compensation increases	In addition, the Initiation Restraint Program held the cost of Government down by limiting compensation increases to five per cent for employees in the broadly-defined provincial public sector and placed restrictions on price increases set or directly authorized by Ontario ministries or agencies.
1981 Budget Measures	A review of major transfer programs was announced including health and OHIP, institutional health, legal aid, income support, local transfers and post secondary education.

3. Cost-Containment Initiatives: Management

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Fleet Vehicle Reduction 1991-92	During the Estimates process Treasury Board directed that the size of the vehicle fleet be reduced by 200 units. Departments are directed to review their requirements and identify vehicles for reduction.	Reduction in staffing of 958 positions, or about 5 per cent of the provincial civil service resulting in actual layoffs of 375-450 full-time civil servants.
Estimates Process 1991-92	New estimates process focusing decision making on four broad sectors rather than on individual departments. Programs were categorized into one of three categories based on degree of priority (A - fundamental to either the economic or social requirements of the Province; B - priority programs that are criteria driven and can be altered to achieve a more cost effective outcome; C - all other programs). Plans were developed for each sector, based on target expenditure levels, by committees made up of deputy ministers. Target expenditure levels were based on costed out Category A programs, 90 per cent of the previous year's adjusted vote for Category B and 59 per cent of the previous year's adjusted vote for Category C. Funding levels could be shifted up (ie. Category B to Category A) but not down. The plans were then presented to ministerial committees, also grouped by sector, and then to Treasury Board for review and approval.	Reduction in government communications resources, administration and executive level support saving $4.4 million. Moderation in public sector wage negotiations with growth capped at 3 per cent. Provincial grants reduced by $11,966,100; 71 grants reduced from previous years allotment and 37 grants withdrawn.

2. Cost-Containment Initiatives: Management

Initiatives	Description	Context/Issues	Results/Assessment
Budget reduction and programs elimination (1991)	Budgets reduced for 14 departments or agencies.	Freezing budgets forces administrative savings.	Internal government operating costs are $110 million lower than in 1985-86.
	Elimination of specified assistance and investment programs.	The government and the public want to reduce grants and rebates.	Savings of $9.3 million annually.
	Reduction of Urban and Rural Revenue Sharing grants and a 3.5 per cent ceiling on operating grant increases for health and education third parties.	Third party grants represent almost half of total spending. They must also be part of expenditure control.
Programs reduction (1990)	Reduction in the Municipal Capital Program and in funding for road construction.	Reduce costs in selective programs.	Saving of $17 million extended into future years.
	Cancellation of the Home Improvement Program.	Reduce grants and rebates.	The three initiatives together will save $250 million over the next two years.
	Mortgage protection plan subsidy reduced.	Reduce grants and rebates.
	Elimination of the Fuel Tax Rebate Program.

4. Cost-Containment Initiatives in the Education Sector

Initiatives	Description	Context/Issues	Results/Assessment
Capped funding increases to third parties. (ie. school boards, universities, SIAST, Regional Colleges and other education institutions) (1991)	Funding increases to all third parties have been capped at 3 per cent for the next two years and at 3.5 per cent for 1991-92.	Announced in the 1991-92 Provincial Budget.
50 per cent Reduction in EDF Funding (1991)		Reduce spending in selective programs.	Reduced funding of $7.25 million.
Reduction in Scholarship Funding to Universities and Technical Institutes (1990)	In 1991-92, $5.8 million in scholarship funding was eliminated. The remaining $1.7 million was amalgamated with the operating funding to the universities and SIAST.	Funding for undergraduate scholarships was eliminated. The remaining funds (graduate scholarships) are now part of University and SIAST operating funding. This essentially gives the institutions the authority to decide who gets scholarship funding and what the level of funding will be.

Initiatives	Description	Context/Issues	Results/Assessment
School Construction Funding (1989)	The provincial school board share of K-12 capital funding reduced from 90:10 to 80:20.	To make school boards more accountable for school capital projects.	Provincial funding for school construction has leveraged more funding from school boards.
Amalgamation of the Department of Education and the Department of Advanced Education (1987)	Both departments were put under one administration in 1987-88.	Improve government efficiency.	Most likely had the desired result.
Major Third Party Grants (1987)	Schools and post-secondary institution grants were held at 0 per cent.	Third party grants are a large part of Provincial spending and must be part of expenditure control.	Grants were held at 0 per cent although some of this was made up in successive years. One university introduced quotas, other education programs were restructured.
Establishment of the Saskatchewan Institute of Applied Science and Technology SIAST (1987)	Four technical institutes and six urban colleges were amalgamated under one administration.	Improve efficiency of technical school education.	Significant cost savings were achieved through reduced staffing overlap and other fixed costs. SIAST was also able to provide a better service.
Establishment of Rural network of rural community colleges (1987)	Rural regional colleges were redesigned to improve co-ordination.	Improve efficiency and co-ordination of programming.	Minimal cost savings but improved service.

5. Cost-Containment Initiatives in the Social Services Sector

Initiatives	Description	Context/Issues	Results/Assessment
Saskatchewan Income Plan (welfare) (1988)	Direct billing to department for recipient's utility bills.	Improve efficiency, reduce abuse and speed up payments to provincially owned utilities.	All objectives met.
(1987)	Check pick up for single and childless couples who are employable.		Savings $1 million/year
(1986)	Special Investigations Branch	Investigates fraud and abuse and establishes a control function for the welfare payment process.	Savings $3-$6 million/year
(1984)	Assistance redirected from single employable recipients to the longer-term disadvantaged.	Incentive for single employables to enter the workforce without decreasing overall benefits.	No net savings although long-term disadvantaged receive higher benefits and the total number of individuals on welfare has been reduced.
New Careers Corporation (1984)	Welfare recipients are given jobs with the corporation for 6 month - 1 year periods.	Provide skill-training and work experience for recipients to allow them to enter or re-enter the work force.	Savings may be as high as $53 million/year (department estimate). The corporation builds parks and recreation facilities which is a side benefit.

6. Cost-Containment Initiatives in the Health Sector

Initiatives	Description	Context/Issues	Results/Assessment
Prescription Drug Plan (1991)	Co-payment increased from 20 per cent to 25 per cent. Implemented non-substitution Drug costs are only subsidized to level of the lowest cost of the equivalent drug available.	Control costs of program and curb rising utilization.	Savings estimated as $9.8 million in 1991-92.
Third Party Grants (1991)	Grants to third parties delivering health-care services (hospitals, special care homes etc.) Limited to 3.5 per cent increase in 1991-92, 3.0 per cent in 1992-93 and 1993-94.	Grants to third parties represent almost half of government spending. They must be part of expenditure control.	Savings indeterminant although the status-quo would have resulted in a much higher spending. Some hospitals have closed beds and laid-off staff.
Other Programs (1991)	Numerous other programs were re-structured to provide services at a lower cost at the community level.	Part of the strategy to prevent illnesses and maintain healthy lifestyles instead of simply more health-care.
Saskatoon Health Services Authority (1990)	Crown corporation established to oversee the three major hospitals in Saskatoon.	Central agency which will be able to co-ordinate, rationalize and reduce overlap service delivery in the hospitals.	Certain health care services have been specialized in one hospital. Overlap has been reduced and quality may have improved.

Initiatives	Description	Context/Issues	Results/Assessment
Doctor's Fee Schedule (1989)	Utilization Sharing Formula implemented. Province funds 1/3 of utilization increasing above 2 per cent yearly.	Control growth in utilization of doctors' services.	System has not yet adjusted fully. Utilization continues to increase in the 4 per cent to 5 per cent range.
Prescription Drug Plan (1987)	Basic deductible of $125/family/year and 20 per cent co-payment afterward instituted. Previously a flat $3.95 fee was charged for each prescription.	Control costs of the program. Increase personal responsibility for the use of drugs.	Program's overall cost was reduced by one-third.
Plastic (Magnetic) Health Card (1987)	Plastic Health card developed capable of carrying individual health records and of monitoring the overall health system.	As part of records keeping for the change to the Drug Plan. Instant information available to the pharmacist, Drug Plan Administrators and consumers.	Initially only used for the Drug Plan, but has been used in pilot projects at hospitals and immunization centres. The card has virtually eliminated abuse of the Drug Plan with its resultant savings. In the long-run, the card may be able to eliminate paper record-keeping and provide instant health information to all professionals.

Initiatives

Position Reduction (1991)

Description

Elimination of over 800 full-time equivalent positions.

Results/Assessment

Since 1985-86, 3,500 positions have been eliminated. The civil service is smaller in 1991-92 than it was in 1978-79.

Another 200 positions will be reassigned to meet changing priorities.

2. Cost-Containment Initiatives: Management

Limit spending on general administration (1991)

Budgets for advertising, freight and postage, rental of equipment, general materials and supplies reduced.

Travel and hosting expenditures cut.

Since 1985-86, program expenditure has increased by an average of only 1.6 per cent per year; spending on administration and lower priority programs has been cut by almost $500 million; expenditure on travel and hosting has been cut by 23 per cent.

Equipment and fixed assets purchases reduced.
Capital expenditure reduced.

Mortgage Interest Shielding and Alberta Family First Home programs discontinued.

Budgets of over half the departments and agencies of the government cut in 1991-92.

Identify programs which might be capped, refocused with smaller budgets or eliminated.

Helped save nearly $400 million in tax expenditures in 1991-92. Other program cost savings.

1. Cost-Containment Initiatives: Wages

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Compensation Fairness Program (1991)	Program to limit the growth of public sector wage settlement. A Commissioner reviews negotiated wage increases according to the guidelines.	In November, 1991, the new government made changes designed to restore the free collective bargaining process and to increase the employers accountability for negotiating agreements.
Compensation Stabilization Program (1982)	Control and stabilize the levels of compensation in the public sector. A commissioner was responsible for analyzing wage settlement plans and for approving or rejecting them on the basis of the guidelines provided.
2. Cost-Containment Initiatives: Management
The Restraint Program (1982-87)	Included strict limits on overall ministry expenditures, staff reduction plans, privatization programs and public sector wage controls.	Over this period the rate of growth in provincial expenditures declined sharply, but the province still ran a deficit because of relatively weak revenue growth.
Budget Stabilization Fund (1988)	Created with objective of stabilizing reported budgetary revenues, and avoiding the need in the future to reduce expenditures when revenues and the economy are weak.	Growth in expenditures exceeded growth in revenues beginning in 1989-90, in spite of a strong economy.
Limits on expenditures (1991)	Legislated limits on government spending not to exceed the growth in the economy.
Mid-term Budget Balance Plan (1991)	Legislated 5-year balanced budget requirement.

4. Cost-Containment Initiatives in the Health Sector

Physician billing number restrictions (1985)

Restrictions on the number of billing numbers distributed to medical practitioners (without a billing number, a physician would not receive payment from the province for services delivered).

The restriction on billing numbers was subsequently made inoperative in a ruling by the Supreme Court of Canada in August 1988.

Negotiated global cap on billings by physicians (1986-89)

Global "over-billing" by physicians in excess of the cap was to be recovered through reductions in the subsequent fee schedule negotiated with the British Columbia Medical Association.

The restriction on billing numbers, and the cap were effective in controlling utilization of physicians' services from 1986-87 to 1988-89.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Ministerial Task Force on Program Review (1985-86)	Task Force was chaired by the Minister of Finance, supported by internal secondees and outside consultants.	Resulted in major review of government funded boards and agencies.
Project to Review the Operation and Structure of Northern Government (1991-92)	Undertook a Project to Review the Operations and Structure of Northern Government, with a mandate to examine government programs, services and structure and recommend ways to increase effectiveness and/or reduce expenditures. Under the direction of the Financial Management Board, the Review Team was composed of senior government managers, outside consultants and community representatives from the major geographic areas and ethnic groups in the NWT.	As of September 1991 the Review Team had completed its field work and was preparing its final report.
Restrictions on Inflationary Increases (1990-91)	Funding adjustments for inflationary increases were restricted to non-controllable statutory or contractual program areas.	Approximately $5 million.
Capital Budget Reduction (1990-91)	Capital expenditure plan reduced by 5 per cent.	Approximately $5 million.
Reductions in Transfers (1990-91)	Implemented a 2 per cent across-the-board reduction to every contribution program provided by the government, i.e., to funding for municipalities and boards and agencies such as school boards and hospital boards. The reduction was based on what the contribution recipients would otherwise have been entitled to under the terms of the contribution program. As a result, this measure did not necessarily mean a year-over-year reduction in the contribution, nor did it apply to grant programs such as the Home Owners' Property Tax Rebate.	Reduced expenditures by approximately $5 million from what they otherwise would have been.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Person-Year Reductions (1990-91)	Implemented a 3 per cent across-the-board reduction to each department's person-year and salary base total.	Reduction of approximately 80 person-years and $5 million.
Temporary Expenditure Management Measures (1988-89)	A number of temporary measures implemented: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Ministerial approval required for all staff requisitions and new positions; - special restrictions on aircraft chartering (significant item in NWT); - Ministerial approval required for all staff duty travel outside the NWT.
Restrictions on Inflationary increases (1988-89)	Departmental budgets were adjusted for inflation only after a price change had occurred, and only if the increase could be directly related back to a specific program. Automatic incorporation of inflationary expenditure growth estimates in departments' budgets was eliminated. Inflationary increases were budgeted for in a supplementary reserve. Departments were required to demonstrate the actual impact of inflation on their expenditure requirements.	Has resulted in significant savings. (Approximately $30 to $40 million over four years).
Restrictions on Person-Year Growth (1988-89)	Government set a target of zero person-year growth (exclusive of program transfers from the federal government).	Target was achieved. Person year growth in following three years averaged only 1 per cent per year.

Initiatives	Description	Results/Assessment
Financial Management Training Program (1986-87)	A new management training program was introduced in order to increase the financial knowledge and skills of managers.	Program has received positive comments from managers and has resulted in a more thorough understanding of financial management requirements throughout government.
Employee Suggestion Awards Program (1985-86)	Cash awards are made to employees who suggest ways to decrease expenditures.	The program has yielded mixed results and is currently undergoing an evaluation.
Managing for Results Systems (1985-86)	Every department was required to implement a Managing for Results System (MFRS) based on Financial Management Board approved criteria and guidelines. The MFRS were designed to increase government efficiency and effectiveness by clarifying, co-ordinating and quantifying departmental goals and objectives, and by improving management's accountability and focus on achieving results.	Implementation of the MFRS has had varying degrees of effectiveness across government.
